

In addition to this great adventure, visit the secret world of the first silk museum of Phuket. See how tiny worms make silk cocoon and it's transformation, by human hands, into the highly valued material in Thailand, we know of today as silk. The demonstration offers you an insight into the local Thai traditions of looming and dyeing; a tradition passed down for generations and embedded in our memories of Thai tradition.

Escape the material world; journey back to the natural world. Phuket Butterfly Garden and Insect World: Beauty and Nature you can touch.
